

Ashadrene™

(Adaptogenic Power)

Certified organic ashwagandha extract fortified with royal jelly

Ashadrene is the only certified organic ashwagandha root extract available. Potent to the extreme, it provides powerful support for healthy adrenal gland function, while also combating stress.* Fortified with triple strength, undiluted royal jelly, it's ideal for supporting the natural coping mechanism.* The main arena of ashwagandha's actions is to boost energy and a healthy coping mechanism response.* Both ashwagandha and royal jelly are rich in biologically active sterols, the root resin containing anolides, which support a healthy inflammatory response, while also supporting normal and healthy blood vessel formation.* Plus, Ashadrene is certified organic, and it is a concentrated resin extract, not just ground up roots. The steroids and other ingredients in Ashadrene are in the whole food form, which means they are highly bioavailable. That's why it's so potent for a healthy coping response.* Plus, the steroids and B vitamins in royal jelly act synergistically with the ashwagandha extract. Take Ashadrene to support overall cell energy, stamina, and physical strength. That's the power of healthy adrenal gland support.* Available as 500 mg gencaps and sublingual drops. Ideally, take it with other Aryurvedic complexes such as Turmeric Power-Plus.

NAHS's Ashadrene is unique, because it's:

- certified organic ashwagandha root extract
- unadulterated
- fortified with 3X raw royal jelly powder
- powerful support for a natural energy response*
- ideal for hormonal balance*
- nourishing for the adrenal glands*
- great for a healthy fatigue response and stress adaptation*
- a potent source of natural steroids known as withanolides
- ideal for overall cellular energy in the body*
- mood-boosting*
- 8X more potent than raw ashwagandha root powder alone
- part of the adaptogenic herb family
- both calming and energizing for lasting stamina and endurance
- certified kosher
- water soluble and water extracted for maximum absorption

More about adaptogens: Out of thousands of plants only a small portion have earned a very special place within traditional medicine. These are the adaptogens. The adaptogens, like ashwagandha and royal jelly, help normalize and boost all body functions, including immune and hormonal balance. Rather than taken to merely get one through their day, adaptogens are taken daily to fortify the body's own adaptive resilience to stress and toxicity, while also supporting a healthy body response against aging.* For optimal results take Ashadrene daily.

